SIEGENIA-AUBI, one of the world's leading manufacturers of window hardware based in Siegen, Germany, together with schnurstracks agency for design and interaction, Cologne, is sponsoring this unusual photography competition in wide panorama format (180° – 360°).

Legal note

By participating in the panorama photography competition "windows of the world", the participant expresses his/her consent to having his/her panorama photograph published in a photography book published by SIEGENIA-AUBI.

The publisher of the photography book, SIEGENIA-AUBI, would like to use the top six selected panorama photographs, for which prize money will be awarded, for corporate design/corporate publishing and marketing purposes, e.g. at trade fairs, for the period of two years. In order to be able to do so, each participant needs to express his/her potential willingness to grant such rights of usage in the event of winning one of the prizes on the registration form. All the other 44 selected panoramas will only be published in the photography book. Non-selected photographs will not be used for any other purpose. There will be no sub-licensing nor re-selling of pictures. By submitting their photographs, participants must not infringe on any third-party rights and must own all the rights pertaining to their picture(s).

I acknowledge and consent to these terms.
